

SOAP KILLS CORONAVIRUS

The coronavirus has a lipid envelope around it, a fatty layer that keeps the RNA inside the virus.

Soap and water dissolve this fatty layer and kills the virus.

This is why washing your hands with soap and water helps prevent the spread of the virus.

● Areas most frequently missed during hand washing

● Less frequently missed

● Not missed